FIRST INFORMATION REPORT

(DUMMY / EDUCATIONAL RECONSTRUCTION)

Case study: Nithari killings — alleged police inaction/recording irregularities concerning missing children

IMPORTANT: This document is a hypothetical reconstruction for research/design purposes. It is not an authentic FIR, does not create a criminal case, and must not be presented to any police station or court as an official record. Allegations are stated as allegations and disputed points are identified where the public record is contested.

1. FIR identification

District	Gautam Budh Nagar, Uttar Pradesh
P.S.	Sector 20 Police Station / local Noida police — exact station allocation varies by incident; not fixed here
Year	2005–2006
FIR No.	Not specified for a standalone DD-entry-alteration offence
Date	Not specified

2. Acts & Sections

(i) Act / Sections	N/A — public sources cited here establish police commission/omission and missing-person reporting issues, but do not establish a specific FIR for deliberate alteration of DD entries
(ii) Act / Sections	N/A

3. Occurrence / information

(a) Occurrence	Period preceding the CBI investigation into the Nithari killings; exact dates differ among individual missing-person complaints
(b) Information received	Multiple missing-child reports were made; exact dates/times are not consolidated in the cited sources
(c) General Diary Reference	Individual DD entries not identified in the cited source

4. Type of Information

Type	Written / oral missing-person reports — exact mode varied by complaint

5. Place of Occurrence

Direction / Distance	N/A
Address	Nithari, Noida, Gautam Budh Nagar, Uttar Pradesh
Outside P.S.	Not specified

6. Complainant / Informant

Name	Multiple parents/families of missing children; individual names not specified in the cited material used here
Father's/Husband's Name	Not specified
DOB / Year	Not specified
Nationality	Not specified
Passport	N/A
Occupation	Not specified
Address	Nithari / Noida area — individual addresses not specified

7. Accused

1	Unknown local police personnel alleged to have failed in their duties or improperly handled missing-person reports
2	No specific individual is named here as having altered a DD entry because the cited official/public material does not establish that fact

8. Reasons for delay

Details	The issue concerns alleged police inaction/omission over multiple missing-person reports before the wider investigation; exact reporting chronology is case-specific.

9. Property / documents involved

Particulars	Daily Diary / police-station records and missing-person reports, to the extent relevant to any proven irregularity; specific altered entries are not identified in the cited official material.

10. Total value

Value	N/A

11. Inquest / U.D.

Reference	N/A — this reconstruction concerns alleged record-handling/inaction rather than a particular inquest.

12. First Information Contents (Brief facts of the case)

This hypothetical FIR concerns allegations of police inaction and possible irregularities in the handling of missing-child complaints in the Nithari area before the CBI investigation. Public and parliamentary material confirms that families reported police apathy and that two local police officers were later charge-sheeted by the CBI for commission/omission. However, the cited official material does not establish the stronger claim that daily-diary entries were deliberately altered to conceal disappearances. That allegation is therefore recorded here as an issue requiring proof, not as an established fact.

13. Action Taken

For an authentic case record, each missing-person complaint would need to be linked to its original DD/GD entry, subsequent investigation steps, timestamps, officer movements, and any certified copies or forensic images of the relevant register. This dummy version intentionally avoids inventing those identifiers.

• The cited sources support police-inaction/record-handling concerns but do not by themselves establish intentional alteration of specific DD entries.

Method note: Where an exact FIR number, complainant, time, address, or other field was not established by the cited public material, this reconstruction deliberately uses “Not specified in cited source” or “N/A” rather than inventing a fact.
